

CADMET Privacy Policy

At Cadmet, Inc. and www.cadmet.com (“Cadmet”), we value you as a customer and therefore strive to make your experience on our website, www.cadmet.com (“Website”) safe and convenient. This Privacy Policy (“Privacy Policy”) applies to all information collected or submitted by you on our Website. By using this Website, you agree to this Privacy Policy. Our Terms and Conditions [provide a link] take precedence over any conflicting provision contained herein. We may change our Privacy Policy by posting a new version of the Privacy Policy on the Website. It is your responsibility to review this page frequently for updates to the Privacy Policy.

Information Collected. You can request a quote on products or request information on the Website. The personally-identifiable information collected on these pages may include your name, business name, address, email address, phone number, and fax number. We use this information to fulfill your requests for quotes and information, and to contact you about specials and new products. Cadmet does not voluntarily provide users’ personal identification information with others. All users should note that when voluntarily displaying personal information (for example, phone numbers or e-mail addresses) over the Internet, the information may be accessible by third parties. Cadmet does not guarantee that other parties will not gain access to this database, and we are not responsible for the use or privacy of data in these circumstances.

Cadmet may also gather general information regarding how users use the Website, including, but not limited to, how many users visit the Website and how long each visit generally lasts. This information is gathered on an anonymous basis and is not identifiable to specific users.

Disclosures. In order to fulfill your requests, we may disclose certain of your personally-identifiable information to third parties, order processing and shipping companies. We cannot and do not make any guarantees with respect to the actions or policies of such third parties. We may disclose your personally-identifiable information if necessary to protect our legal rights, if the information relates to actual or threatened harmful conduct, or we have a good faith belief that such action is necessary to (1) conform to the requirements of law or comply with governmental orders, court orders, or legal process served on Cadmet, or (2) to protect and defend the property or rights of our company, our customers or the public. This includes exchanging personally-identifiable information with other companies and organizations for fraud protection and credit risk protection. If Cadmet should ever file for bankruptcy or merge with another company, we may sell all information, including personally-identifiable information, that you provide to us on the this Website to a third party purchaser or share such information with the company we merge with.

Cookies. We may collect information about your usage of and movement through the Website using “cookies” or similar tracking software. This information allows us to develop and customize the Website to better meet your needs and preferences. Usage of a cookie is in no way linked to any of your personally-identifiable information while on the Website. Once you close your browser, the cookie simply terminates.

Security. We use Secure Sockets Protocol (SSL) encryption from Verisign to protect your personally-identifiable information, including your credit card numbers and other financial data, from interception and hacking.

Contact Us. Should you have any questions or concerns about this Privacy Policy, please contact us at Cadmet, Inc. P.O. Box 24 Malvern, PA 19355, or call us at 610-640-1234.

Thank you for visiting www.cadmet.com.